

Gordon Woo is an expert of catastrophe management. He is internationally recognized as an expert of mathematical modelling of natural and man made risks. For his work on terrorism risk he has been ranked as one of 100 most influential people in finance. He has published influential work on decision making and communication to the public in natural risks, particularly volcanic eruptions and earthquakes. He participates to the FP7 MATRIX Project on multi-risk.